Coffee Creek Center Wins the ILASLA Merit Award of Design

Chesterton, IN - Coffee Creek Center is the winner of the 2001 ILASLA Merit Award of Design. The award recognizes professional accomplishment in a community that illustrates well-executed solutions to problems of varied size and scope. Working with an impressive array of consultants over a period of several years, the landscape architect for the project developed a groundbreaking master plan to promote diversity and integrate northwestern Indiana residents with a preserved and restored natural ecosystem. The ambitious plan includes a conservancy park, overlooks, boardwalks, bridges, trails, street scaping, and plazas all constructed with natural materials for flexibility, beauty, and ease of movement.

ILASLA is the Illinois chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects. The mission of the ILASLA is "to lead, to educate, and to participate in the careful stewardship, wise planning, and artful design of our cultural and natural environments."
